ARMY CASUALTY LIST HAS 283 NAMES

Nearly 100 Are Reported Killed in Action—Eight Died of Wounds—Many New Englanders in the List, Including Boys From New London, Stamford, Waterbury, Riverside, Torrington, Unionville and Manchester in Connecticut.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Army and marine corps casualties reported from overseas during the week ending today increased 1,459 compared with 1,654 the week before. Total casualties reported are 13,156, including today's army list of 345—the largest number yet reported in a single day—and marine corps list of two.

While as yet no figures on casualties in the great allied offensive in which American troops are playing so conspicuous a part have been received, the increase in the daily army lists undoubtedly is due in part to this fighting. The increase for the week was 1,334. The marine corps list increased only 45 for the seven days.

In the 13,156 casualties, total deaths, including 391 men lost at sea, 7 men killed in action, died of wounds, disease, accidents and other causes, numbered 6,144; army men 5,410; marines 734. The wounded aggregate 8,264—army men 7,044; marines 1,220. The missing including prisoners, total 738—army men 710; marines 28.

Of the week's increase deaths from all causes totaled 637, as compared with 282 the week before; the wounded numbered 732 compared with 591 the previous week, and the missing and prisoners totaled 47, compared with 65 the week before.

Yale Grad Wounded.
New York, Aug. 4.—Lieutenant William H. Chandler of Brooklyn, listed in today's casualty list as severely wounded, is a Yale graduate and a Plattsburgh man. He was attending Union Theological Seminary here when he enlisted in May, 1917. He was married three weeks before his departure for France last September.

The New Preston correspondent of the Litchfield Enquirer has a lovely article on moonlight "bathing the world in tender, languishing, serene, seductive, caressing, soft, radiance." He talks of the lover bidding "a reluctant, long-drawn nectarious good night" to the girl swinging on the gate. Then he says that if anyone is too old to appreciate the meaning of this he should ask any fellow between the ages of 20 and 25 about it. The writer is probably an old person. No one with a girl in hand thinks of the moon. He enjoys his possessions in any weather. It is only the pleasures of memory to which a sight of the moon adds anything. People of either sex and of any age love the moon when alone—and "mooning." —Waterbury American.

NEW SOURCE OF POTATO SEED.
[From the Boston Post.]

Maine boys will furnish 10 carloads of certified seed potatoes to boys and girls' agricultural clubs of Massachusetts next spring. The state of Maine agricultural and industrial league early this year arranged with Fred Loring, a Freeport Isle leader, to interest some of the boys in this line of industry, and the plan is working out satisfactorily. This is the first instance of Maine boys engaging in the production of certified seed. It is the league's intention to follow it up along many lines.
